[No 5106.]

For the prevention and cure of SCURVY AND MALIGNANT FEVER, is recommended
DR. J. G. LADD'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
This Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly gratifying the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy, has, under Providence, preserved lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

It is not indeed presumptuously proclaimed as an infallible cure, but the inventor every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove infallible preventive; and further,
in the earlier stages of those diseases use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases of desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly safe, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its mor-ejections—to restore and amend the digestion—to produce a free perspiration thereby prevent colds which are often fatal consequences. A dose never to remove a cold if taken on its first onset: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at stomach and severe head-ache—and to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and to be procured and carefully preserved by every seaman.

OF GALVEZTON.

Extracts of a letter from Beverly Chew, Esq. Collector of New Orleans, to Mr. Crawford, Secretary of the Treasury, dated Collector's Office, N. Orleans, August 1, 1817.

"As it is your wish that every attempt to evade the provisions of the existing laws should be communicated to the Department, accompanied by suggestions of the measures necessary to repress the evil, I deem it my duty to state, that the most shameful violations of the slave act, as well as our revenue laws, continue to be practised, with impunity, by a motley mixture of freebooters and smugglers, at Galvezton, under the Mexican flag; and being, in reality, little else than the re-establishment of the Barrataria band removed some what more out of the reach of justice; and unless the officers of the customs are provided with more effectual means for the enforcement of the laws, the treasury must suffer incalculably."

To give you a more correct idea of this establishment, it will be necessary to be a little prolix; which I beg you will excuse. Galvezton is a small island or sand bar, situate in the bay of St. Bernard, on the coast of Texas, about ninety miles west of the Sabine, within the jurisdictional limits claimed by the U. States, in virtue of the cession of Louisiana to them by France. The establishment was recently made there by a commodore Anny, with a few small schooners from Aux Cayes, manned in a great measure with refugees from Barrataria, and mulattoes. This establishment was reinforced by a few more men from different points of the coast of Louisiana, the most efficient part of them being principally mariners, (Italians or Frenchmen) who have been hanging loose upon society in and about New-Orleans, in greater or smaller numbers, ever since the breaking up the establishment at Barrataria. Colonel Perry commanded one party of about 80 or 90 men of this new community, who had been enlisted principally as soldiers, within our jurisdiction; and Mr. Herrera, coming with a few followers from New Orleans, brought up the rear, & then announced the establishment to the world, by a proclamation, attested by a Frenchman by the name of Morin, very recently a bankrupt auctioneer in New Orleans, as secretary of state. From this new station, fed and drawing all its resources from N. Orleans, and keeping up a regular intelligence, through a variety of channels, with their friends here, an active system of plunder was commenced on the high seas, chiefly of Spanish property, but often without much concern as to the national character, particularly when money was in question. The captures made by their numerous cruisers, (many owned by citizens of the United States) were condemned by a pretended court of admiralty there, as prizes, and the cargoes immediately introduced into this state, principally in a clandestine manner. The vessels thus condemned have generally come here under new names, and with the Mexican flag. Some of them have been detained by the United States' naval force, for hovering in our waters, and others have been "pulled for restitution, by the Spanish consul, in behalf of the original owners, and though several trials have come on before the honorable U. States district court for the district of Louisiana, & the claimants have never been able to produce proof of the government of Galvezton having ever been authorized by the Mexican republic; and restitution has been decreed in several instances. There is no evidence of the establishment having been made or sanctioned by, or connected with, a Mexican republic, it one be now existing, and the presumption of such an actual establishment, under such authority, is strongly repelled by the illegal and piratical character of the establishment, and its ambulatory nature. It is not only of very recent origin, but is clothed with no character of permanency; for it was abandoned about the 5th of April, & transferred to Matagorda, leaving at Galvezton only an advice boat, to advertise such privateers and prizes which might arrive there, of the spot on which they had fixed their new residence. Some days after the abandonment of Galvezton, several privateers arrived there, and among the rest the Gen. Artigas, commanded by one G. Champlain, of New-York, with two schooners, her prizes, the Patronilla, with 174 slaves; & also a Spanish and Portuguese vessel, and the American schooner Evening Post, of N. York, Calvin Williams, master, prizes to the ————, Capt. Maurice Nicholas Jolly.

"Among the two most conspicuous characters who happened to be then at Galvezton, were many of the notorious offenders against our laws, who had so lately been indulged with a remission of the punishment, who, so far from gratefully availing themselves of the lenity of the government to return to, or commence an orderly and honest life, seem to have regarded its indulgence almost as an encouragement to the renewal of their offences. You will readily perceive I allude to the Barratarians, among whom the Leffies may be classed for most, and most actively engaged in the Galvezton trade, and owners of several cruisers under the Mexican flag. Many of our citizens are equally guilty, and are universally known to be owners of the same kind of vessels. A number of these characters being at Galvezton after the abandonment readily saw the advantages that would result in the re-establishment of a government at that place, its situation, so immediately in the vicinity of our settlements, being much preferable to Matagorda, their views being entirely confined to introducing their captures into this state; accordingly, a meeting was called on the 13th April, and it was resolved to re-establish the government, and a true copy of their deliberations you have enclosed. I can vouch for the correctness of the copy, having received it from a person of undoubted veracity;—and thus, without even the semblance of authority from the Mexican republic, they immediately proceeded to condemn vessels and cargoes as good prizes, and to introduce them into this port, and among the rest the cargo of the Evening Post. It was some time before this was known here, great pains having been taken to keep it secret. Since it has been known, I have felt it my duty to report all vessels and cargoes which have arrived here from Galvezton to the district attorney, who has had them arrested under the Spanish treaty; but owing to the unfortunate absence of the judge, no decision can be had thereon. These steps of the officers of the port have irritated the Barratarian gentlemen and their connexions in a high degree, and representations filled with falsehoods will probably be made against them, particularly on the score of enmity to the patriotic cause. As well might a man be accused of being an enemy to personal liberty, who arrests and confines a robber, as that the officers of the port of New-Orleans should be accused of being unfriendly to the revolution in the Spanish provinces, because they have attempted to prevent a lawless establishment at Galvezton from violating the laws. The prizes made by the privateers under the Mexican flag are to a very large amount of merchandise, such as jewelry, laces, silks, linen, britanias, muslins, seersuckers, calicoes, &c. &c. all of which are re-packed in small bales, of convenient size for transportation on mules, and the greatest part introduced clandestinely. Other articles, such as iron, nails, tallow, leather, glassware, crockery, cordage, beer, &c. are brought here in their prizes. It is stated, and universally believed, that captain Champlain sold the slaves captured in the Patronilla and Enriqueta to the Laftites, Sauvinet, and other speculators in this place, who have or will resell to the planters; and the facility afforded to smugglers by the innumerable inlets are too obvious, on a view of the map, to doubt but they either are or will be all introduced into this state without the possibility of the officers of the revenue being able to prevent or punish them; more especially as a great portion of the population are disposed to countenance them in violating our laws. A few days ago information having been given that one of our citizens had gone to the W. with a very considerable sum in specie, to purchase slaves for himself and two other planters, I determined to make an effort to arrest him on his return, and immediately purchased a fine boat on account of the government, (which had been lately captured by a party I had sent on Lake Ponchartrain, and condemned for a violation of the slave act) which I have sent under the command of an active, enterprising inspector, with a military guard of twelve men, and am in great hopes of his falling in with and capturing the party. I am persuaded you will approve of my not waiting for instructions, at the risk of seeing the laws violated with impunity, and I cannot but hope the government will see the necessity of giving instructions to the naval force on this station to prevent the re-establishment of Galvezton, otherwise the bay will no longer be safe for any flag. Since they have been denied shelter in Port-au-Prince, they have no other asylum than Galvezton. On the part of these pirates we have to contend with, we hold an extended and organized system of enterprise, of ingenuity, of indefatigability, and of audacity, favored by a variety of local advantages, and supported always by force of arms; and unless they be met by corresponding species of resistance, the results of the contest are of very simple calculation.

"You will, I trust, see the necessity of either granting a certain number of revenue cutters, of the description I have mentioned, or that the naval force on this station may be enjoined strictly to prevent these privateers from hovering in our waters and violating our laws. It is a fact you may rely on, all the cruises of these privateers commence and end at this port; they enter in distress, comply with the formalities of the law, and if they do not augment their force and renew their crews in port, they do it in our waters, and it is not in my power to prevent it."

Mr. Chew, Collector at New-Orleans, to Mr. Crawford.

Collector's Office, New-Orleans, August 30th, 1817.

SIR—In the communication which I had the honor to make to you, under date of the 1st instant, I gave such information respecting the establishment at Galvezton as I had collected: since then, the depositions of Messrs. J. Ducoing and V. Garros (ex-judges of admiralty at that place, and now here) have been taken, and I herewith transmit you copies, which go to substantiate the material fact stated by me, and I make no doubt that you will be satisfied of the correctness of the assertion, that the establishment of Galvezton is nothing more or less than one of privateersmen, without even the shadow of a connexion with a Mexican republic, if such a republic exists, and as such will not I presume be countenanced by the government of the United States. It has been reported to me, and from a source deserving credit, that the principal part of the force from Matagorda and Soto de la Marina, had returned to Galvezton, and that two prizes have recently arrived, one a schooner with a full cargo, said to be 300, (probably exaggerated); that a contagious fever having made its appearance among the slaves, the privateersmen, apprehensive of its communicating to the other prize, cut the cables, and sent the schooner adrift with the unfortunate beings on board! The other prize, a ship with 400 slaves, was lying there, and they have altogether about six hundred and fifty slaves on hand, all of whom are intended to be introduced into this state.

The United States brig Boxer has sent in two small schooners with thirty slaves on board, captured in our waters, and the deputy collector of the district of Teche writes me he has seized 13, and was in pursuit of a larger number. At this moment I have sent two confidential inspectors to examine three plantations on this river near Baton Rouge, information having been given me that 100 had been purchased for the three at Galvezton. This activity has occasioned some alarm, and I am informed, (and place complete confidence in it) that the privateersmen and others interested have resolved to remove the slaves to Sabine, build barracks, and keep them there during the winter, or till the purchasers appear, and leave the risk of introducing slaves to the planters, whose eagerness to procure them will induce them to run every hazard. They imagine, that fixing themselves to the west of the Sabine, they will be without the jurisdiction of the United States; but I trust they will find their mistake only when the whole party will be seized.

In addition to the foregoing, I beg leave to refer you to the documents lately forwarded by Commodore Patterson, to the honorable Secretary of the Navy, with the memorial of some of the most respectable merchants of this place, praying him to furnish convey to protect their vessels trading with the Spanish ports, from the piratical cruisers, who respect no flag when specie is in question. I have lately sent an inspector of confidence, to examine La Fourche from the Mississippi to the sea; and he reports it as thickly settled for 80 miles from the river, has 8 or 10 feet water, and six feet on the bar at the mouth or entrance in the sea. —there is no obstacle whatsoever to craft entering it from the sea, and ascending to the Mississippi, and trading freely as high up as they please. I mentioned in my last the necessity of appointing an inspector for that place, if you decide not to have revenue cutters on this station. I cannot but repeat that I am firmly persuaded the measure is more necessary for this, than any other district in the United States. Bartholomew Lafont, of this place (who acted as secretary to the meeting of 15th April, copy of deliberation forwarded in my last) is mentioned as the governor of the new establishment near the Sabine. Lafont is now purchasing a large quantity of provisions, and the first cargo will soon sail; a copy of the manifest will accompany this or soon follow. These persons, and a long list of others I could add, if necessary, have no other profession, occupation, or mode of livelihood, than privateering and violating our laws, and openly threaten revenge against any officer of the revenue that may molest or impede their pursuits. They are now preparing a memorial to the department, with the double view to misrepresent the conduct of the officers of the port, and to obtain permission to introduce their illegally captured property, under the false pretext that they (the memorialists) have made heavy advances: the truth is the only advances they allude to, is the equipment and fitting out privateers contrary to our laws. The exports from this place to Galvezton and Matagorda, have consisted principally of provisions; a cargo of arms was sent sometime in the fall of the last year, which have long since been given up as lost, and no return whatever, can ever be expected from the Mexican government, from all present appearances. The imports (without taking into consideration the large amount of goods introduced clandestinely) have been very large, as you will observe by the enclosed abstract of duties secured at this office on these importations.

I have felt it my duty to give you this information for your correct understanding the nature of the establishment at Galvezton, and cannot but hope you will be pleased to instruct me explicitly how to act. My conduct has been governed by a sense of duty, and from a conviction of its propriety; if I have erred, I hope it will be ascribed to an honest zeal.

I am, &c. &c.

BEV. CHEW.

P. S. The brig, with provisions and lumber for the winter quarters of the slaves, attempted to clear to day—but, owing to the informality of her papers, it is postponed till Monday. I enclose a list of private armed Mexican and Venezuelan vessels now in port. [To be continued.]

ALEXANDRIA:

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 24.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Monday, December 22, 1817.

A bill enabling citizens of the United States to exercise at will the right of expatriation, was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole.

A bill for liquidating certain claims of the state of Georgia on account of militia services, was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole.

Resolved, That it be referred to the judiciary committee to enquire into the expediency of increasing the compensation of the marshal of the northern part of the state of New-York.

On motion of colonel Johnson,

Resolved, That it be referred to the committee of commerce and manufactures to enquire into the expediency of clothing the army and navy of the United States exclusively in the manufactures of the United States.

The house then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, and resumed the unfinished business of Saturday, viz:—the bill for granting pensions to the officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers who served in the revolutionary war.

Mr. Orr withdrew the amendment he had proposed on Saturday, to expunge from the bill that clause which provided that the person claiming a pension under this bill should appear before a magistrate and make oath to his being in indigent circumstances.

General Harrison then moved to strike out the first and second sections of the bill, and substitute in lieu thereof provisions to this effect:—that every commissioned officer should receive a pension for life equal to half the pay of his grade at the close of the revolutionary war; and each of the non-commissioned officers and soldiers a pension of five dollars a month. In proposing this he said that the objects he had in view were, to destroy the necessity, created by the bill, of officers going before a magistrate to prove themselves paupers—and to prevent that amalgamation and confusion of the ranks of officers projected by this bill, which would bring a general officer suing for his twenty dollars a month by the side of an ensign. The general deprecated the idea of such humiliating terms being imposed upon brave veterans who had commanded armies, and summoned the attention of the house to the situation of the gallant general St. Clair, after all his services and the devotion of the best part of his life to his country, driven to live in obscure retirement on the Alleghany mountains. He mentioned other officers of note, who were left by the country they had served to languish in obscurity and distress: and he concluded his observations on this part of the subject with the very just remark, that after being unjust so long, it was still worse to add insult to injustice—and as to what had been said of the claims of the militia, he only said that there could not possibly be the least comparison justly instituted between their services—since the regular soldier tied himself and devoted his whole time and labor exclusively to the service—while the militia-man only served occasionally, by starts, on emergencies that did not so often occur and were seldom of long duration—and was able to devote the far greater part of his time to the exercise of his private calling, whatever it might be, by which he was enabled to lay up for his old age and his family a provision from which the regular soldier was in a great measure cut off by his habits.

Mr. Comstock supposed that there could be no diversity of opinion with respect to the claims of those persons, which should have his support. But he did not like the bill because it contained a principle that never had been sanctioned by congress. Hitherto pensions were granted only to those who had received wounds and were rendered incapable of labour by their services to the country. He was opposed to the amendment because he wished the benevolence of the country to be alike extended to the rich and poor.

General Bloomfield opposed the amendment and said that it totally altered the principle of the bill.

Mr. Trimble was in favor of the amendment because he was averse to the odious exhibition of officers going before a magistrate to bear testimony to their own humiliation: and he thought it the more cruel because the original congress had stipulated with the officers to give them half pay for life. In its poverty, however, congress did afterwards request them to give up their half pay, as the treasury was empty, and they did most magnanimously surrender it up—and now when the treasury is overflowing, surely they ought to be allowed to reclaim it.

Mr. Rhea spoke for some time; but I could not hear him—and Mr. Holmes moved that the committee should rise and report progress, which was done, and leave was given to it to sit again.

TAKE CAUTION.

Upon going accidentally this morning into my carriage house, I was surprised to find it full of smoke. My surprise was soon succeeded by alarm, when I discovered that some straw had taken fire and was already beginning to blaze.

A servant had carelessly taken out ashes in a wooden box, which took fire and communicated it to the straw. A few minutes more, and the hay in the loft above would have been kindled into a flame which would, probably, have laid the whole square in ashes. I think proper to make this public, in order that the circumstances, so providentially controlled, may excite a becoming vigilance over our servants in this particular. If we are saved from the ravages of fire in this town, it must be by the divine blessing upon precautionary measures; for, it is evident, we are not prepared to subdue the march of this devouring element, should it ever gain the ascendancy. It will be wise in us, then, to prevent what we cannot cure, and by an attention which costs but little, to save ourselves from incalculable distresses.

The negotiation of a Commercial Treaty, recently going on in that country, had been suspended, in order that our Ministers might obtain further instructions from home. they (the memorialists) have made many advances: the truth is the only advances they allude to, is the equipment and fitting out of privateers contrary to our laws. The exports from this place to Galveston and Matagorda, have consisted principally of provisions; a cargo of arms was sent sometime in the fall of the last year, which have long since been given up as lost, and no return whatever, can be expected from the Mexican Government, from all present appearances. The imports (without taking into consideration the large amount of goods introduced clandestinely) have been very large, as you will observe in the enclosed abstract of duties secured at this office on these importations.

I have felt it my duty to give you this information for your correct understanding of the nature of the establishment at Galveston, and cannot at hope you will be pleased to instruct me explicitly how to act. My conduct has been governed by a sense of duty, and from a conviction of its propriety; if I have erred, I hope it will be ascribed to an honest zeal.

I am, &c. &c.

ALEXANDRIA: WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 24.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT AT WASHINGTON.

Monday, December 22, 1817.

A bill enabling citizens of the United States to exercise at will the right of extradition, was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole.

A bill for liquidating certain claims of the State of Georgia on account of militia services, was read twice and referred to a committee of the whole.

Resolved, That it be referred to the Judiciary Committee to enquire into the expediency of increasing the compensation of the marshal of the northern part of the State of New York.

On motion of Colonel Johnson,

Resolved, That it be referred to the Committee of Commerce and Manufactures to enquire into the expediency of giving the army and navy of the United States exclusively in the manufactures of the United States.

The house then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, and resumed the unfinished business of Saturday, viz:—the bill for granting pensions to the officers, non-commissioned officers and soldiers who served in the revolutionary war.

Mr. Orr withdrew the amendment he had proposed on Saturday, to expunge from the bill that clause which provided that the person claiming a pension under the bill should appear before a magistrate and make oath to his being in indent circumstances.

General Harrison then moved to strike the first and second sections of the bill, and substitute in lieu thereof provisions to this effect—that every commissioned officer should receive a pension equal to half the pay of his grade the close of the revolutionary war; and each of the non-commissioned officers and soldiers a pension of five dollars a month. In proposing this he said that objects he had in view were, to deny the necessity, created by the bill, of officers going before a magistrate to prove themselves papers—and to prevent that amalgamation and confusion of ranks of officers projected by this bill, which would bring a general officer superior to his twenty dollars a month by the bill of an ensign. The general deprecated the idea of such humiliating terms imposed upon brave veterans who commanded armies, and summoned attention of the house to the situation of the gallant general St. Clair, after all services and the devotion of the best of his life to his country, driven to an obscure retirement on the Allegheny mountains. He mentioned others of note, who were left by the country they had served to languish in poverty and distress: and he concluded his observations on this part of the subject with the very just remark, that being unjust so long, it was still more to add insult to injustice—and that had been said of the claims of militia, he only said that there could not possibly be the least comparison justly instituted between their services—since the regular soldier tied himself and devoted his whole time and labor exclusively to the service—while the militiaman only served occasionally, by starts, on emergencies that did not so often occur and were seldom of long duration—and was able to devote the far greater part of his time to the exercise of his private calling, whatever it might be, by which he was enabled to lay up for his old age and his family a provision from which the regular soldier was in a great measure cut off by his habits.

Mr. Comstock supposed that there could be no diversity of opinion with respect to the claims of those persons, which should have his support. But he did not like the bill because it contained a principle that never had been sanctioned by congress. Hitherto pensions were granted only to those who had received wounds and were rendered incapable of labour by their services to the country. He was opposed to the amendment because he wished the benevolence of the country to be alike extended to the rich and poor.

General Bloomfield opposed the amendment and said that it totally altered the principle of the bill.

Mr. Trimble was in favor of the amendment because he was averse to the odious exhibition of officers going before a magistrate to bear testimony to their own humiliation: and he thought it the more cruel because the original congress had stipulated with the officers to give them half pay for life. In its poverty, however, congress did afterwards request them to give up their half pay, as the treasury was empty, and they did most magnanimously surrender it up—and now when the treasury is overflowing, surely they ought to be allowed to reclaim it.

Mr. Rhea spoke for some time; but I could not hear him—and Mr. Holmes moved that the committee should rise and report progress, which was done, and leave was given to it to sit again.

TAKE CAUTION.

Upon going accidentally this morning into my carriage house, I was surprised to find it full of smoke. My surprise was soon succeeded by alarm, when I discovered that some straw had taken fire and was already beginning to blaze. A servant had carelessly taken out ashes in a wooden box, which took fire and communicated it to the straw. A few minutes more, and the hay in the loft above would have been kindled into a flame which would, probably, have laid the whole square in ashes. I think proper to make this public, in order that the circumstances, so providentially controlled, may excite a becoming vigilance over our servants in this particular. If we are saved from the ravages of fire in this town, it must be by the divine blessing upon precautionary measures; for, it is evident, we are not prepared to subdue the march of this devouring element, should it ever gain the ascendancy. It will be wise in us, then, to prevent what we cannot cure, and by an attention which costs but little, to save ourselves from incalculable distress.

A Friend to Safety.

Charleston, Dec. 17.

Captain Candler, of the ship Charles & Henry, arrived here yesterday from Amsterdam, is the bearer of despatches to the Secretary of State, from the Hon. Mr. EUSTIS, our Minister at the Court of Holland. The negotiation of a Commercial Treaty, recently going on in that Country, had been suspended, in order that our Ministers might obtain further instructions from home. Mr. GAZLAIN, one of the negotiators, had returned to Paris.

Capt. C. lately favored us with a file of Amsterdam papers to the 23d October; but they contain no news; their English dates being no later than before received.

The Society which formerly met at the Bank of Potomac, for the distribution of the Charities of the town, are requested to meet at the same place, on Friday Evening next, at half past six o'clock, in order to ascertain if any, and if any, what plan should be adopted, for giving system and efficiency to the public benevolence. All persons who are desirous of promoting this object, though they do not belong to the society, are invited to attend. A full and punctual attendance is earnestly requested.

The Catholics of Alexandria, who must be convinced of the existence of much distress among the poor in the town, during the winter season, ought to be willing to contribute their little mite to their relief. As the festival of Christmas-day is the choicest commemoration of that poverty, which the Redeemer constantly chose for his earthly portion, a charity sermon will be preached and a contribution collected on that day to give some little assistance to the poor. The number of Catholics is small and their means contracted, but it is hoped, that they will not be unkind of that charity, which their religion dictates. A sermon on the festivity will be preached in the afternoon.

R. BAXSTER.

NOTICE.

The police constables and watchmen are hereby required to be vigilant in the detection of all such persons who shall be guilty of the unlawful and dangerous practice of firing guns, &c. within the limits of the corporation, particularly on Christmas and New Year's Eve. It is hoped all well disposed citizens will aid the public officers in detecting and bringing to punishment every offender of this description. The danger of this practice is much greater than the thoughtless are aware of. By firing guns, especially (as is the practice) in the night, there is considerable risk of setting houses on fire, as well as injury to individuals who may be passing through the streets. Steps will be taken to discover all who do offend in this particular: if detected the penalty of the law will be enforced. Parents, masters and mistresses are therefore requested to restrain their children, apprentices and servants, and not to furnish them with the means of transgressing the law.

Sully for Sale.

THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaster of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation; and those, now untillied, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed; the out-houses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses, which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.
For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincumbered.
A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.
Application may be made to the subscriber, living on the premises, next the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax.

Lee, a pale mulatto woman, about 20 years old, of a middle stature, well formed, with small sunken eyes, and Indian hair. She probably has gone to Baltimore, or some of the northern cities, as it is supposed she was seen the next day on the road near Bladenburgh, clad in a stuff dress and a cloak or mantle, with a bundle of clothes in her hands. She may possibly be about the town, or in the District. Thirty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from my service, on the 10th inst. my mulatto house-servant, GEORGE, between 18 and 19 years of age, about 5 feet 6 inches high, slender made, pug nose, bushy hair, half of one of his upper front teeth broken off—he is very artful and forward, and a capable house-servant—he took with him a variety of clothing. I will give the above reward, if secured in any jail, so that I get him again, and will pay all reasonable charges if brought home. Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY, on Saturday evening, the 11th inst. my mulatto man, named NED, commonly called NED M'RAE alias Shtkwxio. He is about 23 or 24 years of age, 5 feet 8 or 9 inches high, and was raised in Manchester. Ned is well made, high forehead and large flat nose: had on when he went away a grey coat and pantaloons, but as he was well provided with clothing of various kinds, it is probable he may have changed his dress. It is believed he went off with his wife, who it appears left Richmond at the same time: she is very black, and I believe, somewhat pitted with the small pox, talks a great deal, of short stature, and rather thick made. Ned is very artful, and may probably attempt to pass for a free man; he has a down look when spoken to. The above reward will be given if taken out of Richmond or Manchester, and twenty-five dollars if taken in either place, and all reasonable expenses paid for delivering him to the subscriber.
DAVID BARCLAY.
N. B. Masters of vessels and others, are cautioned against harboring, employing or carrying off said fellow, under penalty of the law.

James Kennedy & Son, BOOKSELLERS.

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from Lee's Medicine Store, No. 46, Maiden Lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:
Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,
Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.
This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mild est purgative that can be used on any occasion.
Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.
Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebra or large round worm; the Ascarides or small may-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tenia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.
Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gases; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fecid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.
Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.
A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent the vomiting and purging of children—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.
Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.
The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers is recommended

HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS
THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.
The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.
Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.
The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age. They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.
They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.
